Synopsis:

During May of 1974, the Galgano Distributing Corporation, a wholesale and retail distributor of records and tapes, was damaged by a dynamite bomb and reportedly this bombing may have been the result of a union disagreement between ECO COLI and [REDACTED] of the corporation. COLI continues to reside Northbrook, Illinois. COLI has not recently been observed at racetrack, but associate, [REDACTED], has been in attendance.

b6

-P-

DETAILS:

During May of 1974, the Galgano Distributing Corporation, a wholesale and retail distributor of records and tapes, was damaged by a dynamite bomb resulting in approximately $10,000.00 to $15,000.00 damage to the warehouse and approximately the same amount of damage to the surrounding area.

[REDACTED] President of the corporation, was quoted by Chicago area newspapers as stating that he knew of no reason for the fire bombing.

b6
b7C

CG 92-2909

CG T-1 advised on August 23, 1974, that he had received information that indicated that the firebombing may have been the result of a disagreement between [redacted] and ECO COLI. T-1 stated that COLI, a prominent union official in Chicago, had problems with [redacted] in connection with union matters and as a result [redacted] business had been firebombed as a warning against future problems. The firebomb was merely a warning and caused very little damage to the outside of the building.

b7C

On September 18, 1974 and October 25, 1974, observations were made at Teamsters Local 727, 5956 West Fullerton, Chicago, Illinois. On each occasion, a black Cadillac limousine registered to Local 727 was observed parked in the parking lot. Observations of COLI in the past have reflected that he uses a limousine registered to the union in his travels.

On November 15, 1974 and November 22, 1974, observations were made at COLI's residence, 3479 Whirlaway Drive, Northbrook, Illinois. No vehicles were observed parked in the vicinity and no activity was noted.

On December 6, 1974, Detective [redacted] Vice Control Division, Chicago Police Department, advised that he has not in recent months observed COLI at Chicago area racetracks. [redacted] stated that he continues to observe EUGENE ALBANO, an associate of COLI's at the track.

b6
b7C

On December 10, 1974, observations were made at the Gasoline Retailers Association of Metropolitan Chicago, 722 West Hubbard, Chicago, Illinois, a location frequented by EUGENE ALBANO. No vehicles or activity was noted in the area.

Source advised that the three top leaders of organized crime in Chicago are all currently residing outside of the Chicago area as of the end of February, 1975.

Source advised that GUS ALEX continues to remain at his Fort Lauderdale, Florida, residence where he has been since the Christmas Season.

Source advised that TONY ACCARDO remains at his residence, which he has leased for the winter season in Indian Wells, California. Source advised that ACCARDO returned to Chicago on a recent occasion for one day in order to attend to his income tax matters and immediately returned to Indian Wells.

Source advised that JOSEPH AIUPPA is currently in Florida where he has been for the last two weeks.

b6
b7C

Source advised that in addition to the top three, [redacted] is also vacationing in Florida at the present time.

Source advised that DOMINIC "TOOTS" PALERMO is currently functioning as the top lieutenant of AL PILOTTO, the boss of organized crime in the southern suburbs of Chicago. Source advised that PALERMO resides on Minerva Avenue at about 159th Street in South Holland, Illinois, and that he has recently been seriously ill. However, at the present time, he is attending to his duties as PALERMO's top lieutenant.

Source advised that [redacted] and [redacted] continue to book horses and sports at the Dorchester Club, a private club located at the Hyde Park YMCA in the Hyde Park area on the south side of Chicago.

b7C

Source advised that GUS ZAPAS, associate of many of the leaders and prominent members of organized crime in Chicago, and under their influence as the boss of Local 46, the Laundry, Cleaning, and Dye House Worker's Union in Chicago, has recently returned to Chicago after a short vacation in Florida.

Source advised that AIUPPA has recently consolidated his influence over ECO COLI, the boss of Local 727, the Auto Livery, Chauffers, Embalmers, etc., Local of the Teamsters Union in Chicago, and over JOSEPH GLIMCO, the President of Local 777, the Taxi Cab Driver's Local of the Teamsters Union. Source advised that he is aware that recently one of the upper echelon leaders of organized crime in Chicago, went to COLI and to GLIMCO in order to obtain a favor from them. COLI immediately advised this leader that he had been instructed by AIUPPA not to honor any requests presented to him by anyone in organized crime other than AIUPPA. COLI informed the leader that AIUPPA had instructed that any requests for COLI should be first presented to AIUPPA, who in turn would then present the request to COLI if he approved it. In the case of GLIMCO, the leader was told that GLIMCO would attempt to honor the leader's request, but that he would have to mention it to AIUPPA since it was AIUPPA to whom he was responsible.

Synopsis:

JAMES ECO COLI continues to be the boss of Local 727, Chicago, Illinois. COLI, and JOSEPH GLIMCO, the President of Local 777, Chicago, reportedly take orders in the conduct of their union activities from JOSEPH AIUPPA. [REDACTED] of Galgano Distributing Company, Chicago, advised on 5/2/75, that members of Local 727 had attempted to unionize employees of his store during previous year. [REDACTED] discussed the matter with COLI, and since talking with COLI has not been recontacted by anyone from the union.

DETAILS:

CG T-1 advised on February 27, 1975, that ECO COLI continues to be the boss of Local 727, the Auto Livery, Chauffers, Embalmers, etc., Local of the Teamsters Union in Chicago, with offices at 5956 West Fullerton, Chicago, Illinois. T-1 advised that COLI and JOSEPH GLIMCO, the President of Local 777, take orders in the conduct of their union activities from JOSEPH AIUPPA.

On February 12, 1975, and March 6, 1975, observations were made in the vicinity of Local 727 office space at 5956 West Fullerton, Chicago. On neither occasion was the black limousine vehicle used by COLI observed parked in the vicinity.

On March 21, 1975, observations were made at COLI's residence, 3479 Whirlaway Drive, Northbrook, Illinois, however, no vehicles or activity was noted in the immediate vicinity.

On May 2, 1975, [redacted] of Galgano Distributing Company, 4135 West Armitage, Chicago, was contacted in regard to two bomb threats he had received during the course of the past year. [redacted] related that approximately one year ago, that members of Local 727 had attempted to unionize his store in an effort to obtain union memberships of all of the record stores in Chicago. [redacted] stated that he had refused to encourage his employees to join the union. Shortly thereafter, he was told by one of the union officials that perhaps he had better discuss the matter with ECO COLI.

b7c

[redacted] stated that he later talked with COLI at the Local 727 office, 5956 West Fullerton, where COLI related to him that he could alleviate any problems that [redacted] might have. [redacted] told him that he did not have any problems, and that was the last conversation he had with COLI. [redacted] stated that he has not been recontacted by anyone from Local 727 since that time.
